

Semi-Finalist Certificate

awarded to

Christian Andersson

for the song

Rejoice in Triumph

This is to certify that "Rejoice in Triumph" was a Semi-Finalist in the Instrumental category in the UK Songwriting Contest 2011. This song was carefully examined by expert music industry judges and they have awarded Christian Andersson this certificate for participating in the contest in 2011 and for contributing to its continued success as a leading international annual songwriting event.

The UK Songwriting Contest was formed in 2002 in association with The BRIT Trust and other music industry organisations. It is held annually with support from some of the biggest names in the UK and international music communities.
